Make an eligible spouse contribution

Use this form to start making eligible spouse contributions to your spouse's super account.

- The spouse making the contribution may be eligible for a tax rebate of up to $540.
- Contributions made to your spouse's super are subject to preservation rules. This means they generally cannot access contributions until they meet a condition of release.
- There are limits to how much you can contribute to your super. Contributions that exceed these limits may attract additional tax.
- If the spouse is aged 75 or over, we cannot accept eligible spouse contributions.
- Eligible spouse contributions count towards the non-concessional contribution cap of the spouse receiving the contribution.
- You can use this form once to request BPAY® details to make an eligible spouse contribution. If you are making contributions using payment types other than BPAY® or Direct Debit, a form will be required each time a contribution is made.
